PRESS RELEASE

FinTHESIS | Financing Solution Creators announces the start of its operations

After obtaining a license from the Bank of Greece, FinTHESIS is announcing the start of its operations, providing its mortgage loan intermediation services free of charge.

In particular, the new company, operating in the field of mortgage loan intermediation, works with the largest Greek banks, offering a wide range of mortgage solutions, and develops synergies with real estate agents as well as modern, innovative tools that give a significant edge to prospective borrowers. Furthermore, it provides the necessary consulting support throughout the search so that customers (or prospective borrowers) can make the optimal choice.

The Company employs certified mortgage loan consultants with extensive experience in the banking and loan sector.

It has the upgraded and reliable e-stegastiko mortgage loan application platform which, combined with its certified consultants, allows prospective borrowers to be informed and get a mortgage loan without having to visit a branch first. In addition, even if they haven't found the property they want, they can choose the housing programme and mortgage loan that meets their needs.

Note that FinTHESIS provides its intermediation services FREE OF CHARGE to prospective borrowers to get a mortgage loan. It has extensive knowledge of the banking system and takes into account the needs and interests of the borrower.

To this end, it has dedicated and certified mortgage loan consultants who are available to prospective borrowers to go through the mortgage loan application steps and address any concern accurately and reliably.

The purpose of the Company is to become a close partner who builds a relationship of trust with every interested party, to address any obstacles that stand in the way of making the dream of acquiring any asset a reality. The aim is to create the right conditions for every customer to move ahead with their life and grow by making their dreams come true. FinTHESIS is a member of the large Italian group doValue S.p.A, which is expanding to the mortgage loan intermediation sector, aiming to have a strong presence in this rapidly developing market in Greece, following European trends.
